Our Lord Jesus Christ, King of the Universe

(Daniel 7:13-14; Revelation 1:5-8; John 18:33b-37)

Mission Statement

We the people of Old Mission Santa Inés, following the path of Jesus Christ, are making His vision a reality through love, unity, justice, joy and hope.

Nosotros el pueblo de la Misión Santa Inés, siguiendo el camino de Jesucristo, estamos realizando su visión por medio del amor, la unidad, la justicia, la alegría y la esperanza.

FROM OUR PASTOR

“To him who loves us and has freed us from our sins by his blood, who has made us into a kingdom, priests for his God and Father, to him be glory and power forever and ever”. We usually associate power and riches with a king or queen, but Jesus shows us what a true ruler is, one who shares all he has to bring life. As the days get colder (even here in southern California) let us focus on keeping one another warm by our acts of love and compassion.

Thanks to all who helped with our Harvest Dinner. It was a blessed evening and wonderful to be together. We ask God to keep us all safe, healthy, and joyful on the day of Thanksgiving and the beginning of a new liturgical year as we come next Sunday once more to the time of Advent. May the Lord bless you all!

Fr. Bobby

Did you know? Honoring children's boundaries teaches important lessons about consent. As we enter into the holiday season, where many of us will spend time with extended family and friends, parents should remember to pay attention to their children's comfort levels, especially when it comes to physical affection. We want our children to be kind and considerate, so it is tempting to ask them to give hugs and kisses to family members and friends. But when children are nervous or shy, or just do not want to, it is important to honor their personal boundaries — and it teaches them a great lesson about consent over who interacts with them and their bodies. You can suggest alternatives, like high-fives or fist bumps. For more information, read "Why you shouldn't force your kids to hug relatives."

UN CORAZÓN AGRADECIDO

Un corazón agradecido no es sólo la virtud más grande, sino el padre de todas las otras virtudes.

—Cicerón

“Aquel que nos amó y nos purificó de nuestros pecados con su sangre y ha hecho de nosotros un reino de sacerdotes para su Dios y Padre. A él la gloria y el poder por los siglos de los siglos” Hoy es la fiesta del Cristo Rey. Nuestro Rey Jesús nos muestra que lo importante en la vida es servir y ayudar a los demás. Viene el invierno y aun en California del Sur hace frío, y por esto hay que cuidarnos unos a otros como una comunidad de caridad y compasión.

Gracias a todos que ayudaron con el “Harvest Dinner.” Salió muy bonito. Que el Señor nos ayude para que las celebraciones del Día de Gracias, el adviento, y las actividades Guadalupanas sean benditas. ¡Que el Señor les cuide siempre!

¿SABÍA USTED? Honrar los límites de los niños enseña lecciones importantes sobre el consentimiento. A medida que entramos en la temporada navideña, durante la cual muchos de nosotros pasaremos tiempo con familiares y amistades, los padres de familia deben recordar prestar atención a los niveles de comodidad de sus hijos, especialmente cuando se trata de afecto físico. Queremos que nuestros hijos sean amables y considerados, por eso es tentador pedirles que den abrazos y besos a familiares y amigos. Pero cuando los niños están nerviosos o son tímidos, o simplemente no quieren, es importante respetar sus límites personales, y esto les enseña una gran lección sobre el consentimiento de quién interactúa con ellos y con sus cuerpos. Los padres de familia pueden sugerir alternativas, como el “high five” o chocar mano con mano, o chocar con los puños. Para obtener más información lea el artículo en inglés, “Why you shouldn’t force your kids to hug relatives” (Porque usted no debería obligar a sus hijos a abrazar a sus familiares).

NOVEMBER

ALL SOULS

CHRIST, THE KING

The selection from the book of Daniel presented in today's first reading was part of an attempt to weave a vision of ultimate success for the Jews under persecution. Exactly whom the author had in mind when he refers to "one like a Son of Man" is hotly disputed by scholars today. The fact is, we simply do not know if the author meant anyone in particular or if this is a collective, figurative image of Israel's triumph. What we do know is that the early Christian community seized upon this passage and recognized it as a messianic prophecy, a foretelling of the ultimate triumph of Jesus as the Christ of God. The Lectionary's juxtaposition of this text with today's Gospel narrative of Jesus before Pilate is a wonderful example of how the liturgy "layers" passages with new meaning by inserting them in a particular context.

The celebration of Christ the King allows us to hear these passages with a new depth of meaning in light of our contemporary understanding of how, in Jesus and his resurrection and ascension, we have seen the fulfillment of Daniel's vision of ultimate deliverance. The veiled admission of Jesus before Pilate that he did indeed have a kingdom "not here" takes on new meaning against the cosmic vision of Daniel, who allows us to glimpse the "Ancient One" on his heavenly throne.
